ZENIT MULTISTRATEGY SICAV STABILITY

A Sub-Fund of ZENIT MULTISTRATEGY SICAV Class I LU1172559640

Sub-Fund managed by: Degroof Petercam Asset Services S.A.

Objectives and investment policy

Objective

- To increase the value of your investment over the medium to long term.

Portfolio securities

- Under normal conditions, the Sub-Fund invests to gain exposure to bond investments, and may invest up to half of its assets to gain exposure to shares and other equity investments. To gain investment exposure, the Sub-Fund may invest directly in individual securities or may use derivatives, but mainly the Sub-Fund gains exposure by investing in other funds. Investments in other funds may incur a duplication of certain fees. The Sub-Fund maintains exposure to a broad mix of investment types, without limitations as to currency, country, economic sector and rating. The Sub-Fund may be exposed to emerging markets.
- The Sub-Fund may use derivatives to reduce its exposure to various investment risks (hedging) and for efficient portfolio management, as well as to seek investment gains.

Investment process

- The investment manager uses economic and market data to determine how much to invest in each asset class

Designed For

- Investors who understand the fund's risks and who have an investment horizon of at least 3 years.

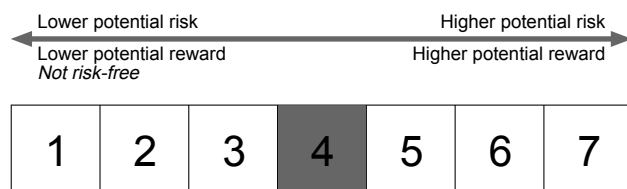

The Sub-Fund issues only accumulation shares (shares in which any income earned is added to the share price).

Orders to buy and sell shares are processed every Luxembourg business day.

Terms to Understand

- Bonds Securities that represent an obligation to repay a debt, along with interest.
- Derivatives Financial instruments whose value is linked to one or more rates, indexes, share prices or other values.
- Shares Securities that represent a share in the business results of a company.
- Emerging markets Markets of less economically developed nations, such as some nations in Asia, Africa, Eastern Europe and Latin America.

Risk and reward profile

- The value of an investment in the Sub-Fund can go up and down. When you sell your shares, they may be worth less than what you paid for them. If your currency as an investor is different from the subscription currency of the Sub-Fund, changes in currency exchange rates could reduce any investment gains or increase any investment losses.
- The risk/reward rating above is based on medium-term volatility (actual or estimated variations in the Sub-Fund's share price over five years). Going forward, the Sub-Fund's actual volatility could be lower or higher, and its rated risk/reward level may be changed.
- The Sub-Fund's risk level reflects the following:
 - As a class, shares carry higher risks than bonds or money market instruments.
 - Investments in bonds tend to moderate the risks associated with shares.

The rating does not reflect the possible effects of unusual market conditions or large unpredictable events, which could amplify everyday risks and could trigger other risks, such as:

- Counterparty risk The Sub-Fund could lose money if an entity with which it does business becomes unwilling or unable to honor its commitments to the Sub-Fund.
- Default risk A bond may lose part or its entire value if the issuer is unable to pay interest or repay principal on schedule.
- Operational risk In any market, but especially in emerging markets, the fund could lose some or all of its investments through fraud, corruption, political or military actions, the seizure of assets, or other irregular events.
- Management risk Portfolio management techniques that have worked well in normal market conditions could prove ineffective or detrimental during unusual conditions.
- Liquidity risk Certain securities could become hard to value, or to sell at a desired time and price.
- Derivatives risk Certain derivatives could increase Sub-Fund volatility or expose the Sub-Fund to losses greater than the cost of the derivative.
